5th Annual Rockland Gathering
at the New City Public Library
June 14, 2003

Karen Lamberton -
Event Coordinator
karen.lamberton@spyril.net

The Rockland County Genealogical Society will be hosting its fifth annual ROCKLAND GATHERING on June 14th, 2003. This free all day event, will be held on the grounds of New City Library, New City, New York from 10 AM to 4 PM. (As some of you may know, New City Library has one of the best genealogy and local history collections for Rockland County and the surrounding region). This event is an unparalleled opportunity to compare notes and research techniques with other genealogists from the Hudson Valley and northern New Jersey. Each year, the Gathering has attracted local history / genealogy authors who generously brought databases on laptop computers so anyone interested in their areas of expertise could do lookups and compare notes!

This year, there will also be a Heritage Scrap Booking session. If interested, please reserve space early! Space is limited. We will have three speakers; Beth Potter on "How to do a House History"; Susannah Benson on "Using Photographs Effectively in Heritage Scrapbooks"; and Megan Smolenyak Smolenyak (at 3 p.m.) on "Remembering Our Ancestors", hints, tips, and chuckles along the road to a family history. If her name is familiar, it is probably because she has written several books on researching genealogy and is often seen in the columns of national publications. She will be autographing books after 1 p.m.

The following competitions will again be judged: President's Prize for a project in genealogy not over 50 pages; the Most Creative/ Artistic Presentation of a Genealogical Project; and the Best Documented Recipe in Family History. We invite all of our members to participate; show us what you have done! Each year a variety of vendors donate prizes which are given to the winners with award certificates (the winners pick their own prizes) - what the prizes will be is always a surprise, but always something good!

The Rockland Gathering will also host its now famous "pot luck" lunch for any club member who cares to participate. Bring a covered dish of 4-6 servings, and feel free to sample any or all of the goodies on the table. Cups, plates, and utensils will be provided, but NOT serving utensils or drinks.

So, come and enjoy! Bring your notebooks, laptops, etc. We can't wait to see you!

New City Library is located at 110 North Main Street in New City and is easily reached from the Palisades Interstate Parkway and the New York Thruway.

Important Program Notice for GSRC, June 24, 2003

karen.lamberton@spyral.net>

The speaker for the June 24th GSRC meeting will be Sharon Sargent of the Massachusetts Genealogical Council. She will bring us up to speed on recent events in the Mass. state legislature of concern to genealogists. This is an important topic even if we do not live in this neighboring state. We already wait over seventy years for "public records" to become public - what if we had to wait well over 100 years, or were totally excluded from being able to request a copy of any vital record, such as a birth certificate? What if it was your own birth certificate? These possibilities have been brought up in several states. If New York decided to follow suit, what could we do? Do we have the "clout" to be heard? These questions and more will be discussed. This is an important meeting, please plan to attend.

The Rumor Mill...

An item said to be from the Suffern Historical Society Souvenir (Rockland County Sesquicentennial, 1798 - 1948) is quoted as saying, "The central portion of the Village of Nyack is built upon land that in the beginning was Patented by Claus Jansen Van Purmarent. Claus sold 100 acres to his friend Dowe Talman, and Dowe became the first settler of the 'North End of Tappan'." Someone raises a question about the recipient: Was it Dowe Harmenson Talman or Harmen Dowsen Talman?"

Readers are invited to send evidence supporting a correct name - Ed.

GSRC MEETING NOTES

at New City Library, 25 Feb 2003

(from Minutes sent by Joan Brooks
<jcbrooks@spyral.net>)

Ed. note: these extracts give an idea of the Society's health and some volunteer activities

Rockland Gathering: Karen Lamberton noted that three speakers have been lined up for the June 14 Gathering, and three or four vendors so far, including "Life History Books." Susanna Benson will be back from last year on "Scrapbooking." Letters will be sent out shortly. Maryann suggested that we purchase some small tables so we have enough for displays. On motion by George Trigg, Bob Protzmann, the purchase of three tables was approved.

Website: Bruce Hamilton, our webmaster, had sent a memo asking if we would consider putting indexes or other databases on our website, as other sites have done, or possibly putting our books out on CD, since some people don't have the room to store books. Discussion concerned the fact that a CD, once purchased, could be passed around or shared, which would cut down on the profits we need to continue copying old records. It was suggested that we could offer lookups for a fee, but we would need volunteers to do this. Finally, it was suggested that the Publications Committee discuss these items and present a recommendation. It was also noted that we need some new people to become involved in volunteering.

Indexing: Les Baisley reported that Mike Secora is still entering data. White Funeral Home is still being copied. Shankey Funeral Home is being entered by Les; it was noted that there are a couple of books missing. The third proofing of Stevenson and some of White has been completed. Maryann will give Les a printout of Tasman Funeral Home burials at Oak Hill. Marie stated that Wyman Funeral Home records are being proofed. The Ramapo Cemetery book is still not published, and Marie Koestler will send another e-mail to Craig Long to see what the status is. Les noted that the Mt. Repose computer records are being "resurrected." Dick Peterson is working on Nyack Rural Cemetery transcriptions.

(Ed. note: examples of our volunteers at work!)

Digital Camera: Handouts of an article on purchasing a digital camera were distributed, following which there was some discussion. George Trigg mentioned that Dick Eastman recommended the Nikon CoolPix 2400, which he, himself, had purchased.

GSRC MEETING NOTES

at New City Library, 25 Mar 2003

(from Minutes sent by Joan Brooks
<jcbrooks@spyral.net>)

Treasurer's Report: Bob Protzmann reported a balance of $7,729.49 in our checking account.

Membership: Bob Protzmann reported a total membership to date of 229.

Publications: Dick Peterson reported net income of $585.71 from publications sold in March. The balance in the publishing budget is $4,002.81.

Indexing: Les Baisley reported that the Stevenson Funeral Home entries are done. The only holdup is the "missing" book that Keith Taylor at Hannemann might have. White Funeral Home Records are still being copied, and 8 Shankey Funeral Home books have been entered in the computer.

The Orange County Genealogical Society is arranging another trip to the National Archives in Pittsfield, MA, on Saturday, October 18th, and they are inviting our Society as well as Bergen County to attend with them. If you want to go, contact Marie Koestler at marie\_koestler@juno.com!

A Novel Approach to a Genealogical Problem
Researching the Lewis Family

Presented by Robert Protzmann

Bob's quest for the Lewis family started with a few family stories, some true, some not so true. His Lewis family came from Wales, were involved with photography, including stereopticons, in Greenpoint, Brooklyn, and were Methodist. The main problem was that their given names were all common ones, such as William, Henry, and John; and the surname, Lewis, is the 5th most common name in Wales, and the 10th most common in the U.S., plus there are other Lewises not related to the Welsh families. Using the standard genealogical sources produced too many names to figure out which family was his.

His approach was to read every history on photography he could and pull out bits and pieces that referenced any Lewises. They owned a family business in New York City and a factory for about three years (c1851-1854) in Daguerreville, between Newburgh and New Windsor, on the Quassaick Creek, in Orange County, NY. Then Bob wrote letters to photography historical societies to get what information he could on the family. Through one of these he found someone who actually owned a Lewis camera and wrote to him, Matthew Isenberg. He didn't receive a reply, but one New Year's Eve he received a phone call from Mr. Isenberg, who mentioned that he had information on the Lewis/Drummond family. Mr. Isenberg stated that the Lewis family had received more photographic patents than anyone else in history. He promised to send Bob some additional information which has not yet arrived. The Lewis family invented the Jenny Lind table, several different types of photographic stands, and the Lewis buffing wheel for daguerreotypes. Bob noted that the U.S. Patent Office has an official website also, but it is indexed only from 1976 on; previous to that you have to know the patent number. One advantage to obtaining a copy of the patent is that the original signature of the owner is on the patent. One of the Lewises also invented a grooved checker so that, when one was put on top of the other for king, they wouldn't slip off.

In addition, Bob found a book written about the Anthony family, who were also heavily involved in photography. This book contained a chapter on the Lewis family, including a list of entries for several years for William H. Lewis in the Brooklyn directories. The book also included a photograph of the immigrant Lewis and his wife, and a picture of the "Satchel Camera" (perhaps an original spy camera?) and the "Fairy Camera."

Since Bob didn't know where his Lewises were buried, he wrote to Cypress Hills Cemetery and Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn; the cemetery clerk in Cypress Hills first told him there were no Lewises buried there. About four years later, Bob wrote again, and the clerk found many Lewises, including Bob's great grandfather, and sent him all the information. He also discovered a Richard Lewis, who was the photographer of the family.

Armed with dates of death, Bob contacted the New York City Municipal Archives and obtained death certificates. If you don't know exact dates of birth, marriages and death, you can visit the Archives yourself, and pay $5 for the day to search the records.

Through city directories and old photographic journals perused at the New York Public Library, he discovered that the Lewises not only invented and patented cameras, but also photographic supplies and equipment, as well as other materials. The New York Public Library also has a Fine Arts Collection, which includes anything photographic, and there is another branch called the SBIL (Science, Business and Industry Library), which has an index of inventors. The Brooklyn Public Library's main branch has a huge local history and genealogical collection, as well as an excellent microforms reading room. They have the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" on microfilm, but it is indexed only for the current years.

Since they owned a factory at Daguerreville, he went to the Newburgh Public Library, looked at old newspapers and found articles pertaining to the opening of the factory, in addition to advertising done by them.

Also, the New City Public Library has Heritage Quest online for censuses and Ancestry.com, which also has census information, as well as other databases. Bob noted that he searched the Internet using the "Google" search engine and found many websites concerning photography, including the George Eastman Museum, and a website that lists every Daguerreotype photographer. He entered "W.H. Lewis" and "Daguerreotype," and got many "hits."

Bob showed a photograph of the Lewis family taken at their home in Huntington, Long Island; he still hasn't found the house, since he doesn't know the address. Most of the people in the photo are identified, but a few are not. He is continuing to work on his Lewis line, and suggests that sources other than the standard ones be utilized if possible, since it worked for him.

(A member noted that another excellent source on the Internet for photography is Rochester Institute of Technology: <www.rit.edu>

QUERIES

483 Onderdonk - A question about Jacob

Onderdonk. See page 15 in the March 2003 GSRC Newsletter, where we have the following -

"(*) Contributor's note: See the Blauvelt Genealogy 'Revised Edition', by Dorothy A. Moos, 1987: #5-488, for information on Jane DeClark, m. Daniel Blauvelt (#5-488), and Anne/Aliche DeClark, daughters of Dirck DeClark and Effie Turneur; Jacob Onderdonk was the s/o Garret Onderdonk and Sarah Hageman."

Mrs. Carole Masotto <ottosam@swbell.net> asked about this: "My records show a Jacob Onderdonk born April 20, 1718, while Garret was born October 11, 1709. This Jacob could not have been the son of Garret. I believe that Jacob was the brother of Garret. Am I correct?"

Ralph Blauvelt responds:

"Jacob Onderdonk, s/o Garret Onderdonk & Sarah Hageman, was born 2 Mar 1745 and baptized 24 Mar 1745 at the Reformed Church in Tappan, NY (Tappan Baptisms, No. 1344). Jacob died 19 May 1795, age 50 years, 2 months, 7 days. His widow, Anna [DeClark], then in 1796 married Johannes Remsen (1745-1813). 'Anna [DeClark] Remsen' is buried next to Jacob in the Martinus Hogenkamp Cemetery, New City, Clarks-town, NY (Budke Tombstones, No. 3423 and No. 3424).

"Jacob's father, Garret, may have had a brother Jacob, b. 20 Apr 1718, but the burial information seems to confirm that The Blauvelt Family Genealogy has the right Jacob Onderdonk married to Anna/ Annetje DeClark."

Ed. comment: Apparently the Blauvelt records do not have a Jacob b. 20 Apr 1718 as a brother of Garret Onderdonk. His parents need to be found!

OTHER QUERY REPLIES

#478 - Hannah Conklin (March '03)

(from M. Smeltzer-Stevenot, 2/14/03)

Hannah Conklin, wife of Jonas D. Secor, was the daughter of Gabriel Conklin Sr. and Esther or Elizabeth --. His will probated 4/11/1816 names children: Gabriel Jr., Daniel, Joshua, Philip, Isaac and "heirs of my deceased daughter Hannah."

Gabriel Sr. wa the son of Joshua Conklin and Mary Secor, a Huguenot family from Westchester, and gr-son of Nicholas Conklin and Sarah Hunt who moved to Rockland from Westchester with their family ca. 1719.

Children of Jonas Secor and Hannah Conklin, named in his will probated 8/20/1817 were Timothy, Mary Ann, Walter and George J. Another daughter Rosanna who may have died before 1817 is added by Mrs. Richey. Jonas had a sister Elizabeth who was one of the executors of his will.

"Conklin Family Records, comp. by Jonathan D. Conklin, contain two errors:"

(from M. Smeltzer-Stevenot, 2/14/03)

(1) "G-g-grandfather Edmond came from England." In fact, Edmund was the son of Nicholas of Eastchester. The family came to Rockland in 1719. Nicholas gave his son 100 acres in Pine Meadow. (Edmund error is corrected in Cole's History of Rockland County). *

* Ed. note: I could not find this in Cole, who says all 4 sons were born in East Chester before 1708 (p. 310).

(2) Descent is in error: Joshua omitted. Should be Jonathan [*] William Jr., William Sr., Joshua, Edmund, Nicholas.

* Ed. note: Not clear if there should be a comma here.

Re: Sharon Sargent of the Massachusetts Genealogical Council, an article we received on Mass. Legislative Bills:

(Ed. note: I condensed this a bit.)

The 2002 Massachusetts legislative activities presented a challenging environment for genealogists. The Massachusetts Genealogical Council (MGC) managed to prevent several end-run efforts to close vital records and initiate more awareness of the genealogical community within the legislature. Some legislators are beginning to understand that genealogists represent a large number of their constituents - and are more likely to be voters than the general public.

While Identity Theft and Fraud concerns were stated goals for vital records closing measures in 2002 - despite numerous studies that point to other, much more effective fraud techniques - there was a backroom myth circulating in the legislature about Federal funds being tied to such measures. The impending crisis of 2002 budget issues made this myth quite appealing - lending credibility without source citations and proof - a problem that genealogists are quite familiar with.

The 2003 Massachusetts budget crisis has brought the financial difficulties into focus. A special Mass. Senate committee issued "A Report of the Special Committee to Recommend Mitigation for Local Aid Cuts" with the following recommendation:

(HD 2428) Relating to Birth, Marriage, and Death Records - This bill relating to birth, death and marriage records would permit the development of a statewide database to serve the needs of the public.

- Through a surcharge on certified copies of vital records, the state projects income of $1.28 million in the first year, rising to $2.09 million in the seventh year, with surpluses ranging from $327,000 to $663,000.

(see <http://www.stanrosenberg.com/mitigation.html>)

Newspaper reports suggest that this "surcharge" is actually a simple doubling of the certified vital records copy costs - but we have no reports that the fee changes have actually been implemented yet.

However, bills filed in the 2003 legislature session present a murkier picture. The MGC has found 14 bills affecting vital records so far. Several would close vital records! Come to the MGC annual Meeting and Seminar or join MGC to receive newsletters for details of this complex legislative session - see <http://massgencouncil.home.attbi.com/index.htm>

The following is a list of pending vital records bills based on the efforts of several Massachusetts genealogists - each of whom got only some of the bills from State House and representative sources:

The MGC created Senate Bill 405 AN ACT RELATIVE TO BIRTH, MARRIAGE AND DEATH RECORDS a petition of Susan C. Fargo, Charles E. Shannon, Susan W. Pope, Robert L. Hedlund and other members of the General Court. <http://www.state.ma.us/legis/bills/st00405.htm>

Ed.'s Afterword

Readers are encouraged to send contributions relating to Rockland County genealogy, including appropriate citations when possible so that others can pursue your findings farther if they wish. Our Newsletter goes to several libraries and other Societies, and is one good way you can be sure your family data won't get lost!

Email addresses are gladly published also - especially if you include your Rockland County names of interest! Your postal address is in the Surname Index (Dec 2002). New members are published in lists that I get from Robert Protzman, <Robert.Protzman@Akzo-Nobel.com>.

Queries: Should relate to Rockland County, and include specific names, dates, places, and events so that the question can be properly studied by others. Both postal and email addresses are helpful, since some readers are not members and may wish to respond. Postal addresses change less often, too.

Replies to Queries are welcome! If you reply to a Query, please send a copy to me so that others can benefit from it! Include the Query # to which you are replying.

All submissions are subject to editing for content or to fit the space available, and are published as space permits. Submitters occasionally may be contacted for clarification if indicated.
